The Great New York State Fair is just days away and if you haven't tried Wing-A-Lings Dry Rubs yet, there's a way you can take them all in at the fairgrounds this year.

Wing-A-Lings products will be on display in two locations at the fair this year. Owner Shanin Stoddard says that they'll have samples to try and products for purchase too.

Wing-A-Lings will be in the Horticulture Building on August 31 as part of the Taste New York event. Samples will be on hand for fairgoers to test for themselves and anyone interested in making a purchase can do so that day as well. They'll also be in the new Expo Building throughout the fair as part of the 'Visit Syracuse' group from Destiny USA.

Wing-A-Lings prides itself on real ingredients paired with real flavor. "Everything on our label you can pronounce," Stoddard said. "It's made to be a healthier choice for anyone who wants to use it."

They offer fifteen different rubs from chicken to fish to their blackened seasoned rub which has become a favorite in Central New York. They also tout their bone dust dry rub which is their standard spice rub and one that they often talk about, Stoddard said.
